Falkirk Laurieston St Columba's Church finding aid

Falkirk Laurieston St Columba's was disjoined from Falkirk Parish and erected as a quoad sacra parish on 14 July 1914. The congregation took the name St Columba's but had previously been known as Laurieston Mission Church.

The congregation united with Laurieston West on 25 April 1945 to form Laurieston Parish Church, which was linked with Redding and Westquarter Church in 1980.
