

FALKIRK ARCHIVES

Estate, Family and Personal Papers Finding Aid (G-L)

Falkirk Archives holds the records of a number of local estates, families and individuals. All have a close connection with the area. Some records have been collected as examples of typical local material, such as ration books and school certificates

In this finding aid you will find a list of the records we hold arranged by the name of the estate, family or individual. Each list has a brief introduction to the estate, family or individual, giving some information on their history and their connection with the Falkirk area.

You can also search the collections through the website Collections Browser.

There are leaflets available which give an introduction to the sources in the Archives for the study of local industrial history, local social history and family history. There are also a number of educational topic source lists which can be consulted by researchers.

Gorman family papers

John Gorman was born at Campsie in 1868 and became a plasterer/slater to trade. At the age of 19 years he joined the 2nd Battalion Scot's Guards and served for 7 years before returning to Lennoxton to work for John Wright, slater. He left in August 1894 and was placed on the reserve list. He joined the Stirlingshire Constabulary, but in 1899 he was called up and served a further 4 years in the Boer War, being discharge in August 1903. After this John Gorman returned to the Stirlingshire Constabulary and carried out his duties at Airth and Slamannan for a total period of 13 years and 10 months until 1911 (see general notes for police record). He then got a position as janitor at the Northern School and with the Carron Company, first as a warehouseman, then as night watchman, then in the Enquiry office.

He rejoined the 2nd Battalion in August 1914 and was discharged in August 1915 due to his wounds - a gun shot to the chest. His son John Murray Gorman, was killed in action on 13 Oct 1918 whilst serving with the Gordon Highlanders.

After the war at Carron Works, now as Yard Policeman, which he held until his retirement. The family lived at 21 Gordon Terrace, Carron Road, Falkirk. He died in 1948.

He had four sons - William, Pat, James and John, and four daughters - Ella, Sarah, Celia and Agnes.

Kerse Estates

The lands of Kerse were granted to William Menteith in 1513 by James IV, then confiscated in 1631 and granted to Sir Thomas Hope.

The barony and estate of West Kerse was purchased in 1752 by Laurence Dundas who became 1st Baronet of Kerse in 1762. It was Laurence Dundas who laid the foundation of the town of Grangemouth. In 1768 he was elected to Parliament for Edinburgh, a constituency he represented until his death in 1781. Sir Laurence was succeeded by his only son, Sir Thomas, who was MP for Stirling County in 1768-69 and was created Baron Dundas of Aske in 1794. He died in 1820. Thomas, Lord Dundas, was succeeded by his son Lawrence, who was created Earl of Zetland by Queen Victoria in 1838, a year before his death in 1839. When Grangemouth became a Magistrates' Burgh in 1872 the influence of the Dundas family in the town lessened.

Thomas Kier collection

Thomas Kier was Provost of Falkirk from 1857 to 1867. He was born in 1811 in Roberts Wynd and died at his home, Newlands, on the Carse in 1890. He was educated at the Parochial School and took up trade as a grocer and was still working into his old age at his High Street shop. He had a brief spell as a Councillor from 1839 to 1841 and did not return until 1858 when he was asked to lead the campaign which culminated in the passage of the Falkirk Police and Improvement Act of 1859. He was Provost for 9 years; he left office in 1867 and was rewarded with accolades and the usual expensive silver plate. During his time the town's general condition improved greatly especially in sanitation, lighting and policing.

As well as his involvement with the Council he was for many years Chairman of the Parochial Board and was in many ways responsible for the building of the Poorhouse in High Station Road (1857) and the new Cemetery in Camelon. He was a leading light in the Falkirk Trustees Savings Bank for 30 years and was also a member of the first school board following the 1872 Education Act.

He was a founder member of Falkirk Bowling Club and was a keen curler. Around 1850 he purchased a farm in Denny called Linns and thereafter styled himself Thomas Kier of Linns.

Louden Family Papers

The Louden family of Brightons, Falkirk, were a family of schoolteachers. John Louden was born in Airdrie but grew up in Reddingmuirhead, Falkirk, where he attended Liddle's school and became a pupil teacher there. After training as a teacher he taught in Meigle, Perthshire, and Bathgate, West Lothian, before returning to Reddingmuirhead. In 1902 he was appointed head teacher at Redding Intermediate School from which he retired in 1925. He was also an active Freemason and a member of Lodge Polmont No 793; a member of Grangemouth Parish Council and later of Stirling County Council; and an Elder at Polmont North Parish Church. He died in 1933. His wife, Jane Drinnan, attended Falkirk High School, 1889?-1893, and the University of Edinburgh, 1895-1899. She was President of Falkirk High School Club in 1899 (the Club was founded in 1898). She taught in Wallacestone Public School. The couple had a son and a daughter. Their daughter, Jessie Campbell Louden also attended Falkirk High School, 1915-1920, and Edinburgh University, 1923-1935, trained as a teacher and taught at Slamannan Public School and Falkirk Northern School. She was also active in the Falkirk Ice Skating Club as a member of the Committee, as Secretary and as an Ice Figure Test judge for the National Skating Association of Great Britain.
