Bo'ness Children's Fair Committee finding aid

The Bo'ness Children's Fair was instituted in 1897 in order to introduce a pageant that would replace the miners' processions which had been held annually for over a century to celebrate the emancipation of miners (Act of Parliament, 1799). The Fair is run by a Committee and held annually on the last Friday of June. Children from local schools take part in a procession and presentations to the Fair Queen (dance or drama). The houses of participants in the Fair are elaborately decorated and local people view the decorations, known as Arches, the evening before the Fair.
