

Welcome to the Sculpture Trail at Muiravonside Country Park. The pieces have been designed to highlight the magic and wonder of Scotland's wildlife and habitats.

The Country Park is a fantastic place to find out more about our natural world and as you follow the trail you can see beautiful views and read more about the environment on our interpretation panels next to the sculpture pieces. Each piece is inscribed with an excerpt from a poem from Kenneth Stephen's book of children's poetry 'Imagining Things'.

The trail is suitable for all ages and the map inside shows the route. As well as enjoying the sculptures, reading the poetry and finding out more about biodiversity on the boards there are other fun things listed overleaf which you can do as you go around the trail, as well as visiting the courtyard hub with its café and the children's playpark. Open up the booklet to find out more overleaf.

Muiravonside

As you walk this path today
May there be plenty fun and play:
Just don't forget that all around,
Up above and on the ground -

There are swallows, there are wrens,
Hidden creatures in their dens;
A silent owl may glide right by,
Or a buzzard soaring high.

Be sure your senses are awake
For every movement they may make;
All that you may see and hear,
Keep safe and sound and sharp and clear.

Muiravonside Country Park has a mini-farm with lots of different animals for you to see. The farm can be found next to the main car park.

The site has many different walking trails which let you enjoy even more of the countryside and find out about its man made and natural heritage. If you're feeling energetic you can climb up to the top of the Aqueduct from the park and experience spectacular views while marvelling at the feat of engineering which enabled it to be built.

The project has been funded by AVONDALE ENVIRONMENTAL through the LANDFILL COMMUNITIES FUND and is made possible through generous support from MADDISTON COMMUNITY COUNCIL, FALKIRK COUNCIL and the HERITAGE LOTTERY FUND

MUIRAVONSIDE SCULPTURE TRAIL

The route is waymarked with this symbol. Sections of the route are surfaced and suitable for pushchairs and other wheeled equipment and these are marked on the map in blue dashed line.

GET YOUR FUN ON

1. Alphabet Bingo

On your way round challenge yourself to spot as many natural things as you can starting with different letters of the alphabet. We've made it easy for you by starting the trail near our orchard which is full of apple trees! Write your answers below.

2. Silly Selfies

Why not take a photo of yourself with the different sculptures? Because the artists have played with scale you can pretend to be a tiny person in a world of giants. Or why not take a snap of your family doing their best impression of each animal next to the sculpture? Send us your best shots via Facebook and we'll feature the best of them in our updates.

3. Feeling peckish

Why not pick up a snack on the way round? If you are in our Orchard in the autumn help yourself to an apple, there is an information board telling you all about the different varieties of fruit on offer. Or you could collect blackberries to take home and make jam and crumble with. On your way round the trail keep your eyes peeled for food which the creatures featured in the trail would eat. The information boards tell you more about them.
